Local supermarkets and European grocers. Chic boutiques and niche specialists. Top class health care and after-school activities. There's a style and taste for everyone, from Sixth Avenue's multi-generational favourites Guthrie House and eateries, recently revamped Serene Centre and Cluny Court, Dempsey Hill's eclectic art galleries and buzzy dining scene, to the newest on the block Dunearn Village.

Nature at Your Doorstep, and Beyond

One of the greatest pleasures of living in Bukit Timah is the luxury of nestling in unspoiled nature as gorgeously green transformations evolve. Against the backdrop of the iconic 164-metre Bukit Timah Hill soaring over its Nature Reserve, Hindhede Nature Park, and Rifle Range Nature Park, the Bukit Timah-Rochor Green Corridor passes right by Dunearn House, featuring an elevated linear park running for 1.4 kilometres above the historic canal to Sixth Avenue. Next stop, the UNESCO World Heritage Singapore Botanic Gardens, a flourishing museum of native plants and wildlife, then onwards to downtown at street level.

Bukit Timah Railway Station

One of the Rail Corridor's most attractive landmarks, the historic depot will be curated into a green oasis with garden orchard and community spaces like event lawns, heritage galleries, and eateries.

Bukit Timah Hill

The richness of Bukit Timah Hill's history is matched only by the verdant vastness of its tropical rainforest. Immerse in its tranquility while spotting more than 1,000 flora and fauna across a myriad of trails from easy to adventurous for the entire family.

Elevated Linear Park along the Bukit Timah-Rochor Green Corridor

An upcoming 11km recreational path connecting Singapore Botanic Gardens, Gardens By The Bay, and Jurong Lake Gardens will stretch along Dunearn Road. First to be constructed, a 1.4km elevated linear park streaming over and along the Bukit Timah Canal, offering an exceptional perspective of the area's natural heritage.

Coast-to-Coast Trail

The 36km trail spanning Singapore crosses Bukit Timah in its Central section, link Jurong Lake Gardens in the west, Lornie Nature Corridor in the centre, and Coney Island Park in the northeast.

The Turf City Story

A Place Steeped in Heritage

Once the playground of European high society and local luminaries, graced by British royalty, and the host of the 2010 Youth Olympic Games' equestrian showjumping event, the legendary Turf Club held a place among Singapore's most prestigious institutions since its founding in 1842.

1933

Singapore Turf Club relocated from Farrer Park to Bukit Timah.

1972

Queen Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Anne visited the Turf Club during their site visit to Singapore.

2000s – Present

After relocating to Kranji, the site became Turf City — a casual lifestyle enclave of dining, retail, sports and recreation within its heritage grounds.

1950s

After WWII, horse racing resumed and got more popular, with the Southern Grandstand expanded to increase crowd capacity.

A World Unfolding at the New Bukit Timah Turf City

Dunearn House

Dunearn House, the first private residential development at the new Bukit Timah Turf City, is positioned at the starting gate of this district's new and next lap. This new chapter continues the setting's almost century-long legacy as a communal space for sports, entertainment, dining, and for everyone in the family.

22 Heritage Buildings

Buildings, former stables and old quarters will be revitalised into new community spaces across the estate, preserving the former Turf Club's mix of architectural styles.

Lush Greenery

The estate sits snug where nature begins, and never ends, a serene habitat of flora and fauna of rich and rare biodiversity that has always been rooted here.

10-min Neighbourhood

First and last mile connectivity means all of life's tasks and pleasures fit perfectly within a 5-minute cycle or 10-minute walk, like shops, parks, recreation, and community facilities. Go places at your own pace via the future nearby Turf City MRT station and bus services.

Car-lite District

The new Turf City aims to be a car-lite and pedestrian-friendly district with good public transport connectivity and sustainable travel options, as well as good walking and cycling connections.

15,000-20,000 New Homes

The URA Master Plan projects new private and public housing on these rejuvenated heritage grounds.

Road Enhancements

To facilitate traffic flow from the new developments in a car-lite district, improvements like the widening of Eng Neo Avenue, Dunearn Road, and Bukit Timah Road are being studied. Green swaths like Eng Neo Avenue Forest and Bukit Tinggi Forest remain preserved.

Imagine the former racecourse's iconic oval revolutionised as a community centrepiece, while both the North and South grandstands anchor the neighborhood's upcoming chapters.
